

All entries on a postcard, with your name and address please, by 31 January 2009

N.B. Companies who promote their products through the "Checkout" pages occasionally wish to contact competition entrants with details of new products and special offers. If you do not want to receive such mailings, please write "No promotional mailings" clearly on your postcard.

Jumbo jingles

Musical creativity gets a head start with Eddie the Elephant Tunes from Lamaze. Babies can enjoy making music with this cute, plush toy, as well as developing fine motor skills, logic and cause-and-effect play. Press a foot to hear one of five cheerful tunes; squeeze Eddie's trunk in different places to compose your very own masterpiece; even better, compositions can be recorded and played back. With his bright colours and patterns, plus different textures and large, crinkly, easy-grab ears, Eddie is sure to be a musical hit.

For further information, visit www.learningcurve.com

NCMA has 10 Eddie the Elephants to give away (worth £19.99 each). For a chance to win, send a postcard marked "Eddie" to Who Minds?, Royal Court, 81 Tweedy Road, Bromley, Kent BR1 1TG by 31 January 2009.

To the rescue!

The Imaginext fire station and engine set is designed to bring out the fearless firefighter in youngsters! Created by Fisher-Price, the set encourages children to create their own scenarios - whether that's rescuing the inhabitants of a burning building or coaxing kitty out of a tree. Lights and sounds will let everyone know that help is on the way, while the retractable hose and extendable ladder help with difficult missions.

Suitable for children aged 3 and upwards, the set comes with three figures and other accessories. Move over, Fireman Sam!

NCMA has five fire stations and engines to give away (worth £40 each). For a chance to win, send a postcard marked "fire" to Who Minds?, Royal Court, 81 Tweedy Road, Bromley, Kent BR1 1TG by 31 January 2009.

All join in!

Kids Like Me specialises in early years resources that embrace diversity, special needs and inclusion, and are tailored to meet the Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) needs. Carefully selected resources help promote a culture of learning, creativity, self-development and understanding, and include multicultural and inclusive toys, books, posters, arts and crafts, games, dressing-up costumes and musical instruments.

Kids Like Me offers free delivery on orders over £60 as well as hundreds of special offers and even goody bags for childminding events. For more information visit www.kidslikeme.co.uk, or call 01323 649 924 to receive a free catalogue.

NCMA has four Kids Like Me gift vouchers (worth £50 each) to give away. For a chance to win, send a postcard marked "voucher" to Who Minds?, Royal Court, 81 Tweedy Road, Bromley, Kent BR1 1TG by 31 January 2009.

Robo-teacher

Meet Red the Robot® - a brand-new resource that aims to improve literacy and speech skills in young children. With an interactive storybook library and comprehensive sets of learning cards, Red (which stands for "Rapid Educational Development") supports all six phases of Letters and Sounds, the government's new phonics programme, aimed at children aged from 3 to 7. Created by Head Start Learning Systems, the range also includes cross-curricular project packs exploring topics such as light and dark and waterproof materials, while interactive science resources look at the human body, space, dinosaurs and the world.

To see the whole range, visit www.redtherobot.com

NCMA has two Red the Robot® sets (worth £130 each) to give away. For a chance to win, send a postcard marked "robot" to Who Minds?, Royal Court, 81 Tweedy Road, Bromley, Kent BR1 1TG by 31 January 2009.